

Downeast Lakes Landings

July 13, 2018

Summertime, and the living's easy in Grand Lake Stream

After a fantastic Fourth of July celebration in Grand Lake Stream, summer is in full swing. Smallmouth are biting in the coves, moose are munching in the ponds, and black-eyed susans are dotting the roadsides in the Downeast Lakes Community Forest. Whether you are out on the lakes or seeking a shady hiking trail, be sure to grab a copy of the new community forest "Visitor's Guide." From hiking trails to lakeside campsites and everything else in between, this guide has everything you need to know for four-season fun in the Downeast Lakes region. Pick one up at a local lodge, The Pine Tree Store, or stop by DLLT's office!

Breakfast With DLLT

Do you have any questions about the community forest? Interested in programs? Or maybe you just want to chat. This summer, stop by the Pine Tree Store every Friday morning from 7-9 am. DLLT staff and board members will be on hand to answer any questions and chat about community-led conservation work. Come out for Brinda's delicious breakfast menu, and say hello!

Road Improvement Notice

Many roads in the community forest are currently being graded to improve public access. Please be sure to exercise caution when driving on the dirt roads, yield to log trucks and graders, and watch for dusty conditions.

Upcoming DLLT Programs

July 17 - "Rare Ecosystems of the Downeast Lakes," with Maine Natural Areas Program's Justin Schlawin. 6 pm at the GLS School Building.
