Downeast Lakes
LAND TRUST ®

Are you shopping online this week? After digesting turkey and all the fixin's, don't forget that you can support Downeast Lakes Land Trust by shopping at AmazonSmile! At no cost to the consumer, 0.5% of your total purchases will benefit conservation in the Downeast Lakes region! Visit https://smile.amazon.com/, and select Downeast Lakes Land Trust as your designated non-profit organization.

On Tuesday, December 1, #GivingTuesday begins! A global movement to boost support for non-profits, Giving Tuesday is a great day to give back to your favorite organization, and show your appreciation for all of the crucial work they do in their communities. We hope you will keep Downeast Lakes Land Trust in your donation thoughts on this important day. To contribute to conserving the Downeast Lakes....

December 14 - Christmas Bird Count

Each year, Downeast Lakes Land Trust contributes to the annual Christmas Bird Count. This event is a part of a long-term citizen science effort coordinated by The Audubon Society to provide insight about where birds are, what their habitats are like, and how land managers can best serve bird populations in their area. Due to the ongoing pandemic, this event will not have an official meeting time. To explore this CBC count area on your own and contribute, email Kendall O'Connell for count area details!

Don't want to venture into the woods, but live in Grand Lake Stream? Don't fret! You can contribute data from the comfort of your own living room on 12/14/20. Send us a list of all the bird species and total number you see at your feeder that day (koconnell@downeastlakes.org), and we can add them to our count.
